BOYS IN BLUE REUNION.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20.—The city is full to overflowing with the boys in blue, and every train that arrives brings additional delegations from all sections of the country. During the night and morning large delegations arrived from New York, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Allegheny City, Bath, Washington, Chicago, Louisville, and from the States of Illinois, Missouri, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Indiana, Texas, Michigan and others. Seventeen States are represented. Among the distinguished present are Governor Hartranft of Pennsylvania, Senator Logan, General Burnside, General Garfield, General Goodloe of Kentucky, Senator Atherton of Texas, General Noyes of California, Scoville of Cleveland, General Negley, General Pearson, General Matthewson Drake of California, Mr. Dudley, secretary of the National Association of Boys in Blue, General Trowbridge of Michigan, General James Latta, adjutant general of Pennsylvania, John H. Montgomery of Maryland. The forenoon has been occupied in the reception of delegates. Ex-Postmaster General and Colonel Ingersoll of Illinois, will arrive from Cleveland to-night. General John A. Dix telegraphs that in consequence of sickness he will be unable to be present.

Speech of Senator Morton.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20.—At 2 o'clock the veterans assembled in the park and were called to order by General Spooner. After prayer and music, Senator Morton made an address of welcome as follows:

Soldiers of the Union, to me has been assigned the grateful duty of bidding you welcome to the State of Indiana and to this capitol. Every Indiana soldier bids you welcome; every true heart bids welcome to the men who saved the nation by their valor upon the field of battle. We owe a debt of love and gratitude which we can never pay. To refuse to manifest this love, because it might be offensive to our enemies, would be alike unwise, unpatriotic and unjust. It would indeed be poor encouragement to patriotism in our future national troubles if you should now ignore the defenders of the nation for the purpose of conciliating those who have been its enemies. I know we are told the time has come when we ought to forget in which army a man served, that we ought to forget whether he wore the blue or the gray, and that we ought to ignore all distinctions between loyalty and disloyalty, and to put all upon the same platform to blot out all difference between the two, whether in law or in politics. To do this, we should be required not only to display the grossest ingratitude of which a free people could be guilty, but to strike the word loyalty from the pension laws, from all laws for the payment of claims, to put all upon an absolute equality, whatever may have been their merits or crimes in the past. For us to forgive those who have lately been in rebellion is one thing; but to place them in positions of trust and power is another thing. We have forgiven those who were in rebellion—the erring men of the South, but it does not follow in reason, in justice, or in wisdom, that we should place in their hands the control of this government, and give to them a distinction and a consideration which should belong to its defenders. I hope, my friends, that this reunion will be to you a season of rejoicing. I hope that you will all go away from here feeling it was good to have been here; that the chain of friendship which was first linked together in the camp, on the march, or in the field of battle, will be brightened. Many of your comrades are lying in Southern graves. Many are fallen by the wayside from year to year, and in a few years none will be left. But as you pass down the declivity of time, hand in hand, to find honored graves, may the love and gratitude of a nation, may the choicest [illegible] of heaven and of earth attend you.

I am surrounded to-day by distinguished soldiers who have written their names high upon the roll of fame—their voices will come back to you like a familiar echo from the far off fields in the South, where you first heard them, amid the crash of battle as they cheered you on to victory. My friends, grateful for the opportunity of welcoming you to the State of Indiana, rejoicing in my heart to be in your presence, I now retire that you may hold sweet converse with your old comrades in arms. [Great and long continued applause.] I have the honor to present to you Gen. Garfield, the distinguished soldier and distinguished statesman. Gen. Garfield then responded.

Speech of General Garfield.

Comrades: You have heard the welcome extended to you by the late Governor of Indiana. It was fitting he should welcome you, who commissioned and sent so many of you out to the field in the days of our great war. It was fitting that you should come here and meet him as you left him, to go out and save the flag and the nation from destruction, and you have asked me to reply to his address of welcome and to tell him that we have come here as members of a great organization called together first for social purposes, and second, to express our opinions as citizens. We meet to recall the old memories and friendships formed in the day of battle,—memories green forever with the recollections of war and victories. We meet to greet each other; to look again into each other's face, to remember the struggles through which we have passed, and express our love for each other in the life we are to yet live. But the second purpose is not the less marked. When we were soldiers we never ceased to be citizens. It was as citizens we went to act as soldiers until citizenship became honored throughout the Republic. [Cheers.] We fought to make citizenship equal [Cries of right, right] wherever the flag flies, and when we had made it both equal and universal, we returned to share it and enjoy it, and in doing that we lost no rights of citizenship because we had been soldiers, and coming back into our old homes the duty of old citizens requires us to help to choose our ruler. We have met here to-day on the special call of the national committee to express our opinions in regard to the great choice that is to be made of our rulers in this Centennial year.

There is a second object of our great gathering in this city, and to that object we shall devote ourselves to-day and to-morrow. We shall talk to each other and to our fellow citizens with the utmost freedom about the policy that ought to govern us, and the men that ought to be appointed as the embodiment of this policy. [Cheers.] The nation has honored you all by offering for a candidate to its highest office your old comrade and friend Rutherford B. Hayes. [Great cheering.] We have come together to send him our greeting and to assure him that the old confidence we felt in him in days of peril is no less than we feel in our hearts to-day. [Prolonged cheers.] That's it, and now, soldiers, let me say a single word more in this direction. You are every day met with the word spoken at all the street corners by a class of men in this republic, that we ought to let bygones be bygones. Never to revive nor remember the great events of the war through which we have passed. [A voice, never.] If that was a mere war of brute force and nothing else, then I agree we ought to forget the war. Prize fighters go out into the ring to fight to see who can pound the hardest and which can stand the most, and when one has given it up, there is no reason why they should not shake hands, for they never had any principle at the bottom of their fighting, [laughter] but our war was not a prize fight of bullies, it was not a brutal struggle to see who was the strongest. Ideas fought then more than now. Every one of you who went out into battle went under the inspiration of an idea, a sacred, deep, high, far reaching idea that must triumph. All hearts felt that we could never know until long after the war was over which idea has triumphed. The battle may not always be with the conquering flag—the cause that appeared lost in the field may yet be won in the course of history, and therefore as you believe in the sacred justice of the cause you fought for as soldiers, you will stand around it as citizens guarding that cause until it is carried and fixed forever in history as a great moral truth that we propose to stand guard around. The war and victories we won are not to awaken any bitter memories, not keep alive any hostility, not do any discredit to any human being, but to do eternal and immortal credit to the truths of the victory we won. That is what we meet for to-day [cheers] and to-day, fellow citizens, we are confronted in our politics with united made up root and branch, in its great majority, of those who fought against us in field. To this united South we respond with the better name of the United States, [great cheering] and the men who saved the United States from being no United States are here to-day, and throughout this Republic to make it the United States united forever in liberty and in justice. [Cheers.]

Now gentlemen, it is my duty, in the absence of the chairman, to preside over this convention momentarily until you yourselves shall have organized this convention for its permanent work. But before I close, I must read to you what our great comrade, the chairman of this association, and of the great convention organized four years ago at Pittsburg sends to you in place of coming himself. This document is signed by a man who gave the order more than 15 years ago, "If any man pull down the American flag shoot him on the spot." [Cheers.] This letter to you is signed by John A. Dix. [Voice—three cheers for Gen. Dix.]

Letter from General Dix.

HEADQUARTERS U. S. NAT. COM., 5TH AV. HOTEL,
NEW YORK, Sept. 18, 1876.

COMRADES: It was my purpose to be present as chairman of your national committee at your convention on the 20th inst. Causes unforeseen until the last moment prevent my attendance. It is a source of unfeigned regret that I am unable to meet in that assemblage the gallant men who periled their lives for the salvation of the Union. My regret is the deeper as it was my wish to speak a few words to you as fellow soldiers face to face on an occasion which calls you together. Its importance cannot be underestimated. It is my sincere belief that the tranquility of the country purchased by your hardships, your perils, your endurance and your valor depends on the election of Gov. Hayes, the gallant commander who led many of you to victory. Independently of all party considerations, I believe it to be far better for the South, better for the North, better for every portion of this one vast Republic that the executive power of the government should be confided to him rather than to his opponent. In placing him in the elevated state once filled by Washington, you will all feel that he will enter upon the discharge of his responsible duties with a patriotism as pure as his life is unblemished, as his integrity is unquestioned. The war through which we have passed with so fearful an expenditure of blood and treasure in reestablishing the government on a foundation which we trust it may be God's providence to be unshaken for centuries to come, has brought with it new responsibilities. A race held in bondage has been emancipated and elevated to the rank of citizenship. The rights with which they have been endowed by general consent are to be protected. Recent occurrences indicate, I regret to say, that there are at the South individuals who are intent on disturbing the established order. While all such purposes are to be resisted and foiled, if need be, by the whole legitimate power of the government, a generous confidence and support should be extended to those who sustain it in its manifest duty to enforce the requirements of the constitution and laws. Your organization was framed in no spirit of hostility to any portion of your fellow citizens. It was formed to maintain by the ballot in the political field the principles which you upheld by the bayonet in the field of battle. We will sustain our Southern brethren in the enjoyment of every right and every privilege which we possess and their security as our own, but we resist, and will continue to resist now and hereafter the elevation of any Northern man to the highest office in the gift of the people, who was not openly and actively engaged in upholding the government when it was threatened with destruction. I believe the election of Gov. Tilden would be most unfortunate for the South. He would go into office distrusted by the whole body of patriotic citizens of the North who sustained the government in its great peril. The overwhelming majorities in Vermont and Maine were called out by his nomination. The other Republican States are only waiting for an opportunity for pronouncing the same emphatic judgment on him. He could not carry on the government successfully against this deeply seated feeling of distrust, and without warming into life the sectional animosities which have proved so disastrous to the country and which could not fail to involve us in new dissensions. We are are starting off at the beginning of the second century of our national existence on a new career of prosperity, animated by hope and confidence, which are inspired by the triumphant success of the past. They must not be clouded or turned into disappointment by our own errors of judgment or of conduct. There are already the dawnings of a renewal of activity in the channels of industry. A country with such immense powers of production cannot long continue unprosperous. No portion of the Union has so deep an interest in preserving that internal order which is essential to the development of our resources as the South. None which would be affected so disastrously by its disturbance. Public quietude cannot be maintained by Tilden. He has no other prestige than that of a party manager, and it is now understood in his own State, and will be clearly shown throughout the Union, that his claim to be a reformer is baseless and fraudulent. I leave for discussion elsewhere his long continued association with the profligate politicians by which the city of New York was plundered, and the recent developments which have so seriously impaired public confidence in his personal integrity. It is enough for us that he is presented to the people as the exponent of the principles and policy of the Democracy, that he declared the war a failure when you were bringing it to a triumphant conclusion, and that he refused to take part in upholding the government when it was menaced and imperiled—a government which would not be in existence if his example and counsels had prevailed, comrades. For in seasons of danger and trial, you have hastened to the support of the Republican party with a devotion and an energy which have always been crowned with success. It appeals to you again for aid in a contest involving the public honor and prosperity and the continued tranquility of the Union. No party in the hundred years of our national life has done so much for the good name and welfare of the country by its patriotism its firmness and its perseverance. It upheld the Government and saved it from dissolution, and abolished slavery. It obliterated forever that only blot on your national escutcheon. In eleven years by prudent financial management it has paid off $700,000,000 of the national debt contracted for the preservation of the Union. I conjure you by these triumphant achievements of the last 16 years; by the remembrance of your heroic comrades who are slumbering in honorable graves, and by the memory of the martyred Lincoln under whose guidance the saving of the Union and the abolishing of slavery was achieved, by all these sacred recollections I conjure to stand by the party which was inspired and ennobled by his example and the cause which was consecrated by his blood. Your fellow citizen, comrade and friend

[Signed.] JOHN A. DIX.

Gen. Logan was then introduced and addressed the meeting. He answered the criticisms made by certain persons, that this was a political meeting, by asking who had a better right to hold a political meeting, and presented the claims of Gov. Hayes for the soldiers' votes, and denounced Tilden's war record as a shame to the party which presented him. He recalled the glorious memories of the war and appealed to his hearers never to forget the lesson taught, never confuse loyalty with treason, never relax in their vigilance over their rights and the rights of their fellow men. Stand by the great Republican measures and the leader nominated for the chief magistracy of the nation.

After the reports of the committees, Gen. Noyes, of Ohio, having been chosen chairman, addressed the Convention, thanking them for the honor, recalling the history of the Republican party, and comparing its record with that of the Democratic party. Concerning the "bloody shirt" business, he said until Northern Republicans, or colored men, can speak or vote in the south as the rebel does in the North, you may expect to hear about the war and the "bloody shirt." Continuing at some length, he closed amid vociferous cheering, and was followed by speeches from Gens. Hartranft, Burnside, Hurlbut and others, when an adjournment was had until to-morrow afternoon. To-morrow morning a grand review and parade will take place, and a monster torchlight procession at night.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Babcock's Trial for Robbing a Safe.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—In the safe burglary case to-day, District Attorney Wells spoke for nearly two hours endeavoring to show the connection of Babcock and Somerville with the conspiracy against Columbus Alexander. The court room was crowded.

Babcock's Trial Resumed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The trial of Gen. Babcock and Sommerville charged with conspiracy in connection with the safe burglary case, resumed this morning. Alexander and Col. H. C. Whitely, ex-chief of the secret service division, were examined but nothing specially new was elicited from their testimony. Whitely, who was jointly indicted with the defendants was released under a nolle prosequi granted in consideration of his evidence stated that assistant district attorney Harrington and General Babcock were cognizant of the burglary and promised their co-operation in protecting the participants therein from punishment.

Military Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Lt. Franklin J. Drake has been detached from Mare Island navy yard and ordered to the coast survey steamer Hassler. The following officers have been detailed as members of the retaining board, convened in San Francisco, by special order of October 19, 1875: Colonel Rufus Ingalls, assistant adjutant-general vice Colonel Robert Allen, relieved; Major P. W. Breck assistant adjutant general, vice Lieutenant Colonel J. C. Kelton relieved.

The superintendent of mounted recruiting service has been ordered to forward 160 recruits to Fort A. Lincoln, Dakota Territory, for assignment to the 5th cavalry.

Relief for Savannah Sufferers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—A committee has been appointed to raise funds for stricken Savannah.

Withdrawal of 5 per cent Bonds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A dispatch from Washington says one million bonds were withdrawn from the treasury to-day and an equal amount of 4½ per cents substituted as security for the National bank note circulation. The bonds withdrawn were $400,000 currency sixes, and $350,000 5-20 per cents, and $250,000 new fives.

THE SIOUX CAMPAIGN.

Indian Chief Arrested.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—News has been received at military headquarters here to-day that on the 10th inst. Gross, head chief of the Blackfeet band of the Sioux, was arrested by the military authorities for exerting his influence to prevent the hostile Indians from coming in to surrender and for other offenses. He will be kept in custody until the charges against him are investigated. The Indians since this arrest have become very respectful and friendly. It will be remembered this chief, John Gross, was, after his arrest, paroled by the authorities that he might attempt to secure the surrender of Kill Eagle and his forces. This was accomplished and Kill Eagle's band laid down their arms, as has already been declared in the official dispatches. John Gross was highly complimented by Gen. Carlin, commanding at Standing Rock, for his services and in return made an eloquent plea for his brethren, and humorously handed over a worthless flint lock rifle to be sent to the Great Father in token of submission.

An Insolent Indian.

SIOUX CITY, Sept. 20.—A Fort Sully telegram says chief Bull Eagle, it is reported, when called on to surrender his arms and ponies, sent word to Gen. Buell at Cheyenne Agency that he would do nothing of the kind and he wants all the soldiers to cross to the east bank and keep their rations, as the Indians would take care of themselves.

Failure to Intercept the Uncepapas—Gen. Terry Returned.

BISMARCK, Sept. 20.—Gen. Terry arrived with his staff to-day en route to St. Paul.

The dash of the 7th cavalry and a battalion of the 6th infantry upon Wolf Point agency, to intercept the Uncepapas, attempting to cross at that point was a failure. The troops failed to overtake the Indians who succeeded in fording the river and escaping to British territory. The employes at the agency who saw them cross represent their number at several hundred. The Indians confessed that they were in a destitute condition, and had thrown away their lodges to facilitate their flight. They offered extravagant prices and ponies for ammunition.

The troops left in cantonment at Tongue river are making good progress in building huts. The other battalions are all en route for their respective posts.

General Sherman Declines a Reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Arrangements have been in contemplation to give General Sherman a military reception on his arrival here this evening, but it is understood he declines the honor on account of being with a numerous party of ladies and children. He will, however, be serenaded at the Palace hotel this evening. The party will be entertained by Gen. McDowell during their stay. The programme will include an excursion around the bay on the steamer Donahue, a visit to Belmont as guests of Senator Sharon, a trip to San Jose, an afternoon at Angel Island, and perhaps a ball and hurried trip to Yosemite. Mayor Bryant was desirous that the city authorities should give a public reception, but the board of supervisors considering the present condition of the treasury deemed it inexpedient.

Gen. Sherman in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—General Sherman and Secretary Cameron arrived by the overland train this evening. It had been intended to give them a military escort to the hotel, but at their request this was dispensed with and they were allowed to proceed to the Palace in peace. This evening the military and civic dignitaries will be received and a serenade by the 4th artillery band will follow at a later hour.

There was a brilliant display of gold lace this morning at Gen. Sherman's reception at the Palace Hotel. All the officers of the Second Brigade were present, Maj. Gen. Vernon and Brig. Gen. McComb acting as ushers. A delegation of civilians was also in attendance. After the introductions, Gen. Sherman addressed the company present in the parlor at some length on the necessity of militia organization in the United States and treated them to some of his well known views on the subject of military discipline. The Fourth Artillery band then played in the court of the hotel, after which the General appeared on the balcony and addressed the assemblage, numbering about 2,000, reviewing his previous California experience and calling up familiar reminiscences of pioneer life on this coast, closing with thanks for the reception tendered him, and the sensible remark that he was about to retire for the night. The crowd then dispersed with cheers for the guest of the evening.

New Feature in the Bonnet Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—It is rumored that a new feature has developed itself in the Jennie Bonnet case, which may lead to further discoveries. It is reported that some months ago she was living with an ex convict named Ralph, who followed the business of hunting, making his headquarters in the hills southward from San Miguel; that she left him much against his wishes, and that he had since frequently threatened her life. The police are understood to be looking the case up.

Smallpox.

Only two cases of smallpox are reported this morning, and no deaths.

Trotting at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The first race to-day was the confirmation trotting race for a purse of $500, of which only one heat was completed last night before sundown. The first yesterday was won by Hayward Chief in 2:35½, the remainder coming in in the following order: Lady Cummings, Gus, Beautiful Belle, Gladiator, Sweetbrier and Clark, with James Lick and Flora distanced. The second heat was won by Sweetbrier in 2:30, Hayward Chief 2d, Gladiator 3d, Beautiful Belle 4th, Cummings 5th, Gus 6th, Kittie Clark distanced for running. In the third heat after an hour spent in scoring, the horses got off, Beautiful Belle passed the judge's stand about a length ahead of Hayward Chief, but the heat was awarded to the latter, Beautiful Belle was given the 2d place, Gus 3d, Lady Cummings 4th, Sweetbrier 5th, Gladiator distanced for running, time 2:35½. The fourth heat was won by Sweetbrier in 2:34, Beautiful Belle 2d, Chief 3d, Cummings 4th, Gus 5th. The fifth heat was won by Lady Cummings in 2:32, Sweetbrier 2d, Belle 3d, Hayward Chief 4th. Gus not having won a heat was sent to the stable. Sixth heat.—Sweetbrier took the heat and race in 2:37, Cummings 2d, Chief 3d. Hayward Chief takes the second money.

The second race was a handicap, one mile and a half. The starters were Lady Amanda, Bradley, Golden Gate, Shannon, Emma Skaggs, Vanderbilt and Queen. Emma Bradley was favorite. The race was won by Emma Skaggs in 2:40. The next was 2-mile heats for three-year olds for a purse of $800. The entries were Ballinette, Ward Beecher and Rosewood. Beecher was the favorite. Ballinette won the first heat in 3:41. The pools then changed, Ballinette having the call. Beecher won the second heat in 3:48 and the third easily in 3:55½.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

THE VOTE FOR SENATOR—EFFECT OF THE RESULT—A STRONG LOBBY.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Sept. 20.

As I closed my letter yesterday immediately upon the announcement of the result of the vote for U. S. Senator in the two houses, it was impossible to describe any of the effects which that vote had upon the action of the several aspirants and their friends. To be so near the goal and still unable to grasp it, to work as Jacob did for Rachel, seven long years, and then not get her must be very trying on a man's nerves, to say nothing of the twinges which his conscience must occasionally get, when, as in Gov. Grover's case, he has devoted nearly seven years to the work of securing a seat in the U. S. Senate and finds himself within one vote of the prize. However, as that one vote may be found before this letter is mailed, we need not here "ruminate" upon what might be the consequences, if standing, as he now does, on the "Jordan's stormy banks" of Legislative uncertainty, Gov. Grover should not be permitted to cross over into the Senatorial Canaan.

AFTER THE VOTE YESTERDAY

The other business of the two houses was brief, and there seemed to be an impression on the mind of almost every member that, having once entered upon this work, other matters were like the side shows to Montgomery Queen's circus—very small affairs compared to grand central objects of attraction: the enormous elephant, the huge hippopotamus and the roaring rhinoceros. The Senate sat 15 minutes in the afternoon, and these conscript fathers separated to gather again very soon in knots of two, three or more about the hotels and other places to talk over what had been done in the House, the vote of the Senate having created but little or no surprise, as everybody expected just about what actually happened in that branch. In the House, however, it was more doubtful, and though some of Grover's friends expected a majority in this branch also, on the separate ballot, the general opinion was that he would fall short several votes. The Republicans voted solid for Uncle Jesse Applegate except Mr. Fanning, of Washington, who gave the only blank vote cast. The votes which Nesmith got were all Democratic, of course, and by voting for him they subjected themselves to an amount of button-holing and importuning that is fearful to contemplate. Many and varied were the rumors flying thick in the air last night about combinations and consolidations to beat Grover, but we believe that a majority of the Republican members agree with the views set forth in the columns of the OREGONIAN of last Tuesday, that they cannot afford to enter into any corrupt bargains, or consent to barter their manhood or violate their consciences by becoming a party to the use of means, even to defeat Grover, which every honest man and patriot might not endorse. We do not say that any attempt of this kind has been made, but with the strong minority which there is in the Assembly, the temptation and the opportunity we might say, to form alliances distasteful to upright men and productive of political injury to the party making them, are not wanting. This is a Democratic fight and the Republican members are not generally disposed to mix up in it much, as it is not generally regarded by them as a "clean thing."

Since the vote was taken yesterday, a good many names have been mentioned, out of which it has been thought might be selected one upon which the anti-caucus men could agree. Among the prominent ones are Asahel Bush and D. P. Thompson, but a meeting of those interested in the movement was held last night, and we are informed resulted in no agreement upon the question. But as the hour is rapidly drawing near for another ballot, we will desist till that event. But whatever may be the work of to-day, it is certain there is a very powerful influence here against Grover, and many members of his own party are working very hard to defeat him.

THE FIRST BALLOT

In joint convention has just been taken, and the result, which is given elsewhere, has terribly demoralized the Democracy. It is generally believed that Grover's chances will diminish with every successive ballot.

OREGON'S EXHIBITS

We have at different times noted the favorable comments on Oregon's Centennial exhibits which have appeared in the Eastern newspapers These have usually been short or at least forming only a portion of articles devoted to the general subject of Centennial displays It was with pleasure and some degree of just pride that we saw in that bright and enterprising paper the Pittsburg Evening Leader a two and a half column notice of our fine displays from which we propose to make some extracts

The Leader's article first notices the grain as follows

Wheat the great staple is exhibited by sample in the State department both in the stalk and berry There are numerous specimens of fine Mediterranean seed grain D Prettyman exhibits some remarkable ninety day wheat. The ground on which it was grown was never ploughed or harrowed the grass being merely burnt off and the grain scratched in It yielded thirty bushels to the acre

Some samples of Irish Lammath wheat are shown which yielded fifty bushels to the acre and weighed seventy pounds to the bushel

The Chili club variety of this precious grain appears to flourish luxuriantly in the soil, some remarkable specimens being exhibited, one of which shows ninety straws grown from a single grain

In rye the display is not inferior to that of wheat. A number of samples of magnificent spring and winter rye can here be seen that for size and perfection cannot be surpassed One of these samples was taken from a crop the yield of which was eighty seven bushels to the acre Specimens of the grain as grown are also displayed, showing the hight to which it attains and the fullness of the heads Many of these stalks measure nine feet in hight

C P. Burkhart of Albany, displays specimens of growing oats and also the threshed grain The yield was eighty eight bushels to the acre, and the weight forty-two pounds to the bushel The hight of the tallest stalks is eight and a half feet.

George Belshaw also exhibits some fine oats taken from a crop that harvested eighty bushels to the acre

After an inspection of the wool and timber on exhibition, the writer of the article we quote from expresses his admiration of our fruits, and speaking of cherries says:

Cherries are represented by the Maydukc black eagle tartarian Governor Wood Elton and Royal Ann There is on exhibition a jar of the last named variety of cherries in brandy each cherry in which will measure an inch and a half in diameter A car load of fruit will shortly be sent from this State to the exhibition, and if it arrive in good condition as is hoped and expected the people of the Atlantic slope will have an opportunity to see what kind of fruit is grown in this modern 'Garden of Eden'

The wonderful adaptation of our soil and climate for the successful raising of fruit trees is thus remarked

In order to show the rapid growth of fruit trees in Oregon, a number of saplings are on exhibition, of one year's growth directly from the seed, which measure nine feet in hight

In the agricultural bureau at Washington can be seen the fac simile of a pear grown in Oregon that weighed over four and a half pounds. It is no uncommon thing to find them two pounds in weight.

Our concentrated cider also attracts the attention it deserves There were, of course, many more of the exhibits specially noticed, but enough has been quoted to show in what estimation our productions are held.

We regret that the Legislature seem to consider it a matter of so little importance whether our displays are creditable or not. It seems to us that this is an opportunity which should not be neglected, and that, instead of hesitating about appropriating the small sum of $500, a much larger sum should be contributed.

TWO VERSIONS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

There was a good deal of very edifying writing in Mr Tilden's letter of acceptance upon the subject of fraud and trickery, which the model reformer reprobated in choice terms, very much to his own satisfaction and the admiration of the world. He claimed, in substance, that the Republican party was tainted with fraud and given to all manner of knavish tricks, and that, on the other hand, the Democratic party was composed of wise, prudent and pure men, who were above trickery and incapable of fraud The declaration was seemingly sincere, and had a great effect. But the New York Times took away something of the force of the expression against fraud when it published Mr Tilden's tax returns, and now the Washington Republican plays the mischief with what was said about trickery. That paper gives in parallel columns a paragraph from the St. Louis platform, and the same paragraph as it is published in most of the Southern Democratic papers

NORTHERN VERSION	SOUTHERN VERSION
Reform is necessary to rebuild and establish in the hearts of the whole people the Union eleven years ago happily rescued from the danger of a secession of States, but now to be saved from a corrupt centralism.	Reform is necessary to rebuild and establish in the hearts of the whole people the Union eleven years ago happily rescued from the danger of a corrupt centralization

The Democratic caucus as we learn by dispatches from Salem, has not been a success The time seems to have gone by when party leaders could force men to act and vote at their dictation. A better day seems to have dawned in which men will use their own judgment and give their support and their votes according to their individual opinions of right or expediency This will no doubt be a matter of regret to a few politicians of the old school who like to hold the reins of power and guide the members of their party as they would guide dumb driven cattle but it will be regarded a good sign by all those who care less for party than for principle and who would rather do right than gain a party triumph The caucus is to political action what the Star Chamber was in ancient days to the administration of justice and men who submit to its dictation sacrifice their individuality and nullify their rights More than that they allow others to exercise a power which is delegated to them alone The right to vote is not transferable It is one which the people have conferred upon the legislators individually and it ought not to be surrendered or exercised according to the [illegible] of the controlling spirits of a caucus If the conclusions of a meeting of party men are satisfactory to all present then all present should vote for them not because the meeting resolves but simply because each individual approves of them and if after the meeting dissolve any member of it discovers any good reasons for changing his mind and differing with the rest of the meeting, he should feel at liberty, nay more he should feel bound to do so

A great meeting of Boys in Blue is now being held in Indianapolis Speeches have been made by Senator Morton Gen Garfield, Gen Noyes Gen Logan and others Gov Dix unable to be present has sent a letter which was read by Garfield Great enthusiasm prevails and old memories are being revived and old friendships renewed

We saw recently in Mr Luelling's orchard a pear tree eight feet high two inches in diameter at the ground on which were growing ninety one pears which could not have averaged less than half a pound each in weight

RUPTURE!

No More Metallic Trusses Used!

No More Suffering from Iron Hoops or Steel Springs!

THE SUPERIORITY OF OUR ELASTIC Trusses over the rigid Iron Hoops which in former days were the only resource of the ruptured, admits of NO ARGUMENT

By means of this appliance the pressure on the Rupture itself can be made uniform and continuous and to the extent required in each case until a slight inflammation of the parts is secured and the consequent effusion of lymph which is essential to a healing process, and from this time to the conclusion of the treatment the pressure being entirely within the control of the patient can be lessened daily as the adhesion progresses and the body becomes sound All cases of reducible Hernia are permanently relieved without regard to the age of the patient or the duration of the injury, while in its action it is wholly free from all the cruelty that has characterized the treatment of the malady with tortuous Metal Trusses from the earliest age to the present day Your attention is called to the following facts

1st—There are no springs to press upon or to injure the back
2d—It is simple in construction and not liable to get out of order
3d—This instrument is worn with perfect ease while riding horseback
4th—The Rupture is retained and the pressure the same while in any position
5th—It has none of the injurious results of metallic Trusses
6th—It will perform radical cures when all others fail
7th—It is worn with ease and comfort night and day which cannot be said truthfully of an metal Truss whatever

Experience shows that all tempered spring Trusses necessarily press upon and often disease parts of the body that before were in a perfectly healthy condition Lumbago and other equally distressing ailments are not unfrequently the outgrowth of such pressure and in view of this fact it becomes a matter of decided consequence to avoid like calamities if possible

Examination Free. The closest scrutiny of physicians solicited

Beware of Bogus articles called Elastic Trusses Dr. ROWE, Inventor and Patentee of Elastic Trusses All parties infringing either by sale or manufacture will be dealt with in such manner as the law provides

AN IMPOSING CORTEGE.

The announcement in yesterday's OREGONIAN of the death of Quang Wa, one of the oldest and most influential Chinese residents, apprised the community that imposing ceremonies were on the tapis for the funeral, which took place during the forenoon. But few, however, were prepared to witness such an extraordinay display and the heathenish rites that celebrated the event. At an early hour the near relatives and friends of the deceased assembled at the intersection of Alder and Second streets and initiated the preparations, which were decidedly superior to anything of the like character heretofore seen in the city for some years. Several temporary tables, formed of rough, unplaned pine boards, were erected and decorated in the most fanciful and characteristic fashion. The intervals between were filled with banners inscribed with mottoes, and prayers to Joss, interceding for a favorable reception for the departed. The tables were bounteously supplied with every Chinese delicacy, the names of which we acknowledge our entire ignorance, and garnished with roast pigs, browned to a turn. Solids and liquids were abundant, and delighted the sensitive olfactories of the assembled Celestials who were present by hundreds, anticipating the feast which would ensue at the conclusion of the ceremonies. The whole was surrounded with matting, upon which were the high priest and relatives, clothed from head to foot in spotless white. At the head of the display, enclosed by a guard of juvenile Chinese, lay the remains of Quang Wa in full state, which, by the way, emitted a most overpowering stench, preventing too near an approach for the gratification of idle curiosity. Conspicuous in the throng were the recumbent figures of the relict and son of the defunct, the latter enveloped in sackcloth and with bare feet, indicating his extreme grief and woe, and from both of whom emanated the most dismal howls. The Chinese band, consisting of tom-tom, fidle, castanet and flute, kept up the most doleful strains and summoned crowds of people to witness the outre pageant. The offering of incense, the burning of prayers and witch-like cantations continued for several hours, notwithstanding the heavy and disagreeable rain which fell throughout the whole performance. With a proper regard for the standing of deceased and with the determination to give him a first-class funeral, the Northwestern Band and every carriage and hack that could be obtained were engaged. Finally, having concluded the necessary formula, the tables were cleaned, the coffin placed in the hearse, and led by the band playing funeral? airs, such as "Yankee Doodle," "Pop goes the Weasel," etc, the procession took up its line of march through the principal thoroughfares in the following order: Hearse, mourners, with the widow and son on foot, sustained on either side by friends of the family Cousins to the number of fifty in double file and a regiment of Celestials with carriages in the rear completed the imposing cortege. After marching about the streets for some time, the procession headed for the cemetery where the mortal remains of Quong Wa were laid to rest. Our Mongolian neighbors were doubtless proud of their appearance and satisfied that they had made an indelible impression upon the minds of their American brethren. We presume no particular harm was done by their idolations and heathenish performances, yet no real benefit can be conveyed to the minds of our people by such outlandish observances, and recurrences of this nature should be prohibited if within the province of the authorities.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, SEPT. 20 1876.

REFUSED TO CONFIRM.

A communication from his honor the mayor appointing John B. Waldo city attorney. was laid on the table.

A communication from his honor the mayor, appointing L. Besser city assessor, was read, and a motion to confirm was declared lost by—yeas, 2; nays, 7.

On motion, the council took a recess of five minutes.

Council called together, present same as before.

A communication from his honor the mayor, appointing Thos. Connell, city assessor, was laid on the table.

Council adjourned until Saturday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

BRIEF NOTES.

Sweet cider season near at hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulford sailed for Australia on the 6th inst.

The fire laddies had a heavy old run yesterday morning.

Streets in a horrible nasty condition, and sidewalks sloppy.

The ladies are not partial toward promenading just at this time.

Thomas Whiffin and Miss Blanche Galton, a sister of Susan Galton, are in New York.

The rain clouds hung disagreeably low yesterday for personal comfort and convenience.

The steamship Elder is announced to sail hence for San Francisco Saturday morning at 6 o'clock.

The "moisture" yesterday caused temporary suspension of work on the new buildings necessary.

Increasing travel on the east side road. Train last evening consisted of three passenger coaches.

A good many suits of clothes were sacrificed yesterday in the b'hoys' efforts to reach the fire first.

The Georgia Minstrels played successful engagements on the Sound and at Victoria, and have sailed for San Francisco.

James Scott has succeeded Wm. McMillan as engineer of Protection engine No. 1, the latter having located on the Sound.

The College B. B. C. were to meet yesterday to take into consideration the propriety of entering the State Fair tournament.

The steamship Eldo brought 1,150 tons of assorted cargo to this port—the largest cargo ever brought to this port on any steam vessel.

We are gratified to notice the announcement in our columns this morning, that Messrs. Millard & VanSchuyver have been appointed the agents of the Cyrus Noble distillery, and their acceptance of its sale is a further guaranty of the purity of the Noble Whisky. It will find a largely increased sale at their house.

The fall campaign is opened, and Kohn is selling clothing cheaper than ever.

BOARD OF TRADE.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening at the rooms at 7:30 o'clock.

Hon. H. W. Corbett, President, in the chair and Wm. Reid, Secretary, in attendance.

Minutes of the last regular meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were read from Col. Wilson and Capt. L. Kempff, which were read and placed on file:

U. S. ENGINEER OFFICE,
PORTLAND, Sept. 15, 1876.

WILLIAM REID, Esq.—Dear Sir: I transmit herewith for your information a copy of a letter this day received from Capt. Kempff, in reference to buoying the channel across St. Helens bar. Very respectfully,

JOHN M. WILSON, Bt.-Col. U. S. A.

OFFICE OF THE LIGHTHOUSE INSPECTOR,
13TH DIST., ASTORIA, Sept. 13, 1876.

COL. JOHN M. WILSON, U. S. A., Engineer 13th Lighthouse District, Portland, Oregon—Dear Sir: Your communication of the 11th inst. pointing out the importance of making the channel of the Columbia river near St. Helens, leading from the old Pacific Mail dock towards Austin's house, is received. I shall give the matter early attention, and I thank you for this information contained in your letter. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

LOUIS KEMPFF,
Commander, U. S. N., Inspector.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr. Schultz moved that the further consideration of the "Drummers' bill" be indefinitely postponed. The motion failed to secure a second.

Mr. Jacobs moved that the bill be taken from the table. Carried.

On motion, the secretary read the bill in question for the information of the board.

Mr. Jacobs moved that the board, endorse the bill and recommend its passage by the Legislature, which motion prevailed.

The secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the bill to each branch of the Legislature, asking the favorable consideration of that body.

The consideration of the bill relating to towage and pilotage was, on motion, deferred until the next regular or adjourned meeting of the board.

A bill asking the Legislature to appropriate the sum of $2,500 to defray the necessary expense of laying a cable between Fort Stevens and Astoria was read, and, on motion, laid on the table.

Mr. Reed moved that the sub-committee appointed by the standing committee on legislation to confer with the directors of the Central Pacific Railroad company in relation to securing favorable terms for the construction of the Winnemucca Railroad be discharged from further consideration of that matter. Carried.

After some further discussion, the board adjourned, to meet at their room next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

FROM ALBANY.

Our regular correspondent, writing under date of the 20th inst., sends the following:

Mr. Mullencup's little girl is quite ill with spinal disease.

The health of the city is good for this season of the year.

Some deaths among children from scarlet fever the past few days.

Bishop Dubs will preach at the courthouse next Sabbath at 11 A. M.

Property is held up to pretty high figures and some is changing hands.

The circus and menagerie on yesterday, called out an immense crowd.

The Brownsville M. E. church has just received a new library, so we understand.

Public schools opened last Monday under the direction of Prof. Gilbert, superintendent.

Monthly concerts are in order at the M. E. church, beginning with the first Sabbath in October.

Political matters are running high with both parties, and we, as old settlers are generally stirred up.

A new side-track is to be built at once at the depot to accommodate the meeting of the up and down passenger trains.

The Conference of the M. E. Church South, held at Corvallis, closed yesterday, and Bishop Marvin will preach in this place this evening.

The up and down railroad passenger trains meet at this place at 11:45, passengers taking dinner, which gives an additional breeze to this city.

A large hotel is to be built at the depot in this place, of the following dimensions: 120x30, and to be occupied by Mr. Brown, a man who understands the business well.

The Servians have been driven out of Gurgusovatz; Harvatovitch has fallen back on Alexinatz; Sevenyearsovitch has defeated Crackyerjawigatz, and Pulldownyervestovitch has inflicted a crushing blow on Wipofyerchinowski. Awful low prices for clothing at Beck & Waldman's.

The latest styles in clothing, hats, etc., can always be found at Kohn's, the leading clothier.

DISCOVERY.

Dr. Halpruner wishes to announce to the public that his operations and medicines for the treatment of CORNS, BUNIONS, etc., are all of his own discovery, and are entirely different from any other chiropodist's treatment on the coast. Persons afflicted with CORNS, etc., can have them treated at their residence or place of business by sending their order through the postoffice, or leaving them at J. Kohn's clothing store.

LOOK AT THIS.

MRS. S. LORD will start a new crop of hair in any stage of baldness, and on a polished scalp, in from two to three months, if treated by herself, warranted permanent. No mushroom growth, money to be placed on deposit. No hair, hair, no pay. Falling of the hair, dandruff and itching, checked readily. Room 21, Monnastes' Building, First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.

A TESTIMONIAL.

MRS. S. LORD—Dear Madam: I commenced using your Hair Producer about five months ago, my hair being thin and falling out rapidly, accompanied with an intense itching of scalp. Shortly after I commenced using your preparations, the itching ceased entirely, and the hair stopped coming out, and having used the remedy according to directions, my hair is growing thick and strong, with every prospect of being fully restored. Yours truly,

JAMES LABU, Mount Coffin, W. T.

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

PILES! NO CURE, NO PAY! PILES!

PILES OR HEMORRHOIDS, FISTULA IN ANO AND OTHER DISEASES OF THE RECTUM CAN BE CURED. Those suffering from the above distressing complaints would do well to call and see me soon, as I expect to go to Olympia in a few days, and visit other points on the Sound. I shall be absent a month or six weeks. Remember if I do not give relief and cure you, I shall not charge you for my services or the medicines used. To persons of limited means I would say, should you suffer because you are poor? My answer is, no! COME AND BE CURED. Rooms on Third street, between Washington and Alder; P. O. Box 247, Portland, Oregon. DR. C. P. WIGHTMAN.

N. B. Persons writing will please enclose stamp for return postage. Diseases of private character specially treated without mercury.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

H. M. S. Amethyst will sail to-day from Victoria for San Francisco with Lord Dufferin and party.

The Victoria Standard of the 18th says: Three Indians died in the pest house on the Indian reserve on Saturday night, and four or five Saturday. There are also several cases lying around in the bush back of the marine hospital.

An explosion occurred in the Fitzwilliam mine on New Castle Island on the 15th inst., which resulted in the instant death of a man named George Brown and a Chinaman, and more or less injury to John Frame, Matthew McDowell, Andrew Miller and Jas. Gillespie—the latter superintendent of the mine.

The third annual prize meeting of the British Columbia Rifle Association terminated on the 16th. Grand aggregate prizes for total in matches Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7, first prize, gold badge of the B. C. Rifle Association and $30, Lieut. Wolfenden, Victoria Rifles, 255 points; second prize, silver badge of the B. C. Rifle Association and $15, Sergt. Brown, 225 points. His Excellency, the Governor-General presented the medals, offered for competition by him, to the winners Sergeant Brown of New Westminster and Lieut. Wolfenden, Victoria Rifles.

Referring to the Nooksack country the Bellingham Bay Mail says: The Nooksack country is not a valley twenty miles long and two miles wide, but a vast level plateau from Whatcom to the British Columbia boundary line, a distance of nearly twenty miles, and extending eastward to the foothills of the Cascade range. Of course in the immediate vicinity of the river the land is very desirable, but the fact is it is all good land for many sq[u]are miles along the river.

The Grand Lodge in session at Boise City last week, elected the following officers: L. Stevenson, M. W. G. M.; O. H. Purdy, R. W. G. S. W.; A. T. Richardson, R. W. G. J. W.; Charles E. Logan, R. W. G. T.; Charles Himrod, R. W. G. S.

THE RAW, BLUSTERING WINDS OF WINTER AND EARLY SPRING, search out the weaknesses of all who are predisposed to Lung Complaints, and in consequence, Colds, Coughs and Bronchial Disorders everywhere prevail. Those who have contracted Colds should be especially careful, and not imprudently wait until by constant coughing they so irritate and rack their Lungs as to bring on themselves a very serious Pulmonary Affection. Let them rather treat their symptoms rationally, and at once, and by the prompt use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, cure their Colds, and heal all accompanying Soreness of the Chest.

EUGENE ITEMS.

Our correspondent at Eugene City, under date of Sept. 20th, sends the following:

Mr. Scott Baily, who accidentally cut himself with a knife last week, is all right again.

The Hayes and Wheeler Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting Saturday night last.

Mr. F. Dudley has been appointed janitor for the State University building with a salary of $500 per year.

Major T. G. Hendricks and Colonel Auditor have returned from Portland with heavy stocks of goods for their respective houses.

President Johnson arrived here yesterday from Portland with his household effects, and will hereafter be a resident of Eugene City.

At the last meeting of the city council they repealed the law that made it a criminal offense to sell or give away intoxicating liquors on the Sabbath.

During the funeral services of Mrs. W. H. Abrams, while they were closing the coffin the floor gave way and dropped down about a foot. No one was hurt, but several were badly frightened.

Quite a number of dwelling houses will be erected here this fall. Mr. G. W. Kinsey has the frame of one ready to inclose, and Marion Wilkins will soon complete the foundation for his dwelling house.

Mr. Wm. Smith, who lives near town, is growing a Centennial turnip that he proposes to send to the exhibition. It now measures 48 inches in circumference, and is enlarging at the rate of two inches week.

Last Saturday night while Queen's circus was performing at Junction, the Junction City marshal attempted to arrest two country roughs. They were getting the best of the marshal and were running the town to suit themselves when the canvas-men from the circus came up armed with iron stakes, and thus reinforced the marshal arrested the only one he could find of the crowd. The circus men deserve credit for the manner in which they conducted themselves on the occasion.

A Remedy that Defies Competition.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters defy competition. Of the host of rival tonics that have cropped up during its long career, not one has gained and retained such a large share of public favor, though many have enjoyed an ephemeral popularity. The reason is this, that whereas many of these medicines were advertised to perform cures of the most startling nature, they have when tested, almost invariably turned out to be of little or no value, while the great invigorant, whose reputation they were intended to rival, has never disappointed those who have placed their confidence in it. It has vindicated in the amplest manner its claims to be considered a positive specific remedy for liver complaint, dyspepsia, malarious fevers, debility, constipation, and numerous other maladies arising from general weakness and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels.

CYRUS NOBLE DISTILLERY, 1st Dist., O.

CINCINNATI, April 1, 1876.

Messrs. LILIENTHAL & Co.

Gentlemen—I have just returned from a trip through Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia, undertaken for the purpose of examining the various distilleries in those districts, and I am now more than ever confirmed in the opinion, so often expressed to you, that your distillery is the most complete, and best conducted of any in the United States.

The careful selection of your grain, the purity of the water, the slower and more cautious method of distillation, is what gives the NOBLE WHISKY its superior qualities, and has gained for it the reputation which it universally sustains throughout the United States.

Gratified that the 20 years devoted to the distillation of the CYRUS NOBLE WHISKY, has been attended with such happy results, I trust I may be spared to continue my labors in its interest, and th[illegible] of its many patrons and consumers.

I am, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

CYRUS NOBLE.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The [illegible] which our Cyrus Noble Whisky has enjoyed in medical practice throughout the [illegible] and Europe for a period of nearly 25 y[illegible] prompts us to bring it to the noti[illegible] of the Public of the Pacific Co[illegible] for [illegible] use.

Its absolute purity, hav[illegible] by analysis been found to be entirely free from FUSEL OIL, and the improved quality imparted to it by its being retained in store for at [illegible] 5 to 8 years after distillation, has given to the Physician a remedy long sought for in his own Materia Medica.

German Silver Transmitted to India.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Times says we understand the German government has sent three hundred thousand pounds in silver to England for transmission to India. This has not affected the market here. At 5 P. M. silver was quoted at 51½.

Bank of England.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £22,000.

Queen Victoria's New Title.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A Calcutta special says great preparations are making at Delhi for the proclamation there on the 1st of January of Queen Victoria's title of Indiae Imperatrix. Fifteen thousand British and native troops will participate. A week's holiday is proposed.

Persecution of Protestants in Spain.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Earl Derby has consented to receive deputations relative to persecution of Protestants in Spain.

It was announced at a meeting of various Protestant societies that the German missions have not been molested in consequence of special stipulations made by Emperor William.

The Times has published a letter from Barcelona which says that during the last three months the clergy and aristocrats have made a severe attack upon their employes and servants who dare to worship or send their children to Protestant schools or churches. Hundreds of poor men and women have thus suffered for their faith.

[illegible] of the Abyssinians.

[illegible], Sept. 20.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Alexandria, says it is again currently reported that the Abyssinians have captured Massowah and two Egyptian steamers.

Violation of the Suspension of Hostilities by the Turks Complained of.

[illegible], Sept. 19.—The Servian note handed the foreign consuls yesterday complains that the Turks have violated the suspension of hostilities at Yankowa and Klous[illegible]. It is also stated that they have destroyed and burned [illegible] and [illegible] the river Timok.

[illegible] that the Servians, by order of Prince Milan, have recrossed the Drina and [illegible] their former position on its western [illegible].

Gen. Tchernayeff [illegible] to Attack the Turks.

[illegible], Sept. 20.—Gen. Tchernayoff telegraphs that in consequence of the non-observance by the Turks of the suspension of hostilities, he will also disregard it if opportunity arises of obtaining the advantage. The minister of war left Belgrade in great haste to [illegible] this [illegible] as well as to [illegible] the [illegible] on its way to tender [illegible] Milan the crown.

[illegible] of Prince Milan as King [illegible]

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Prince Orloff, Russian ambassador, [illegible] MacMahon [illegible] King has [illegible] had [illegible] at the Russian [illegible] determined to defend [illegible] the rights of christianity in Turkey [illegible] to support the excessive [illegible] of Servia.

[illegible] Late D[illegible]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Earl of Beaconsfield, late [illegible] to-day. He said [illegible] in the year, [illegible] of failing [illegible] be [illegible] that she [illegible] not [illegible] it upon his services after the [illegible] of the late [illegible] of parliament. His political career would then close; but he had retained the premiership at the [illegible] of the [illegible], and his colleagues. He believed there never was an [illegible] which had more difficulties to deal with than the present one at this moment. Under ordinary circumstances, [illegible] the external difficulties of the British foreign ministry, he would have the [illegible] of knowing he was backed by the country; but it would be affectation to [illegible] for a moment that such at the present [illegible] was the position of Her Majesty's government. Unhappily, a great portion of the people have arrived at conclusions which the government thinks will, if [illegible] into effect, be injurious to the interests of England and fatal to any chance of the maintenance of European peace. Lord Beaconsfield, while praising even impolitic enthusiasm as elevating a country, proceeded to stigmatise as worse than Bulgarian atrocities the conduct of a man who would avail [illegible] of popular enthusiasm for the attainment of his individual ends by a course which he knows to be injurious to the interest of his country and the welfare of mankind. He continued: I will relate what even at the latest moment is the prospect of [illegible] and which I think not of less importance to the vital interests of England. He then proceeded to review the [illegible] of the Eastern question. After the [illegible] to the Berlin memorandum the British Government communicated freely and frankly with the other powers. Lord Derby lost no time in laying down the [illegible] upon which he thought [illegible] might be re-established. These communications were taking place constantly. There was never a more [illegible] than that during this time, the government was carrying on a sort of war with Russia. We received on the [illegible] all the Great Powers a cordial attempt to co-operate with us in every way, but from no Power did we receive that assistance so cordially and completely as from Russia. I think that in the spring of the present year the negotiations might have resulted in peace on principles which would have been approved by [illegible] good men; but unexpectedly the Servians, that is to say, the secret societies of Europe acting through Servia, declared war on Turkey. In conducting the government of the world, there are not only sovereigns and ministers, but secret societies to be considered, which have agents everywhere—reckless agents, who countenance assassination, [illegible] produce a massacre. War between Servia and the Porte having commenced, it was quite impossible to carry out the views which we suggested. The Servian war is wicked and outrageous. Servia in its relations with the Porte has violated every principle of honor and morality. The speaker proceeded to give the details of the British offer of good offices to Servia. He pointed out that although Lord Derby was accused of of doing nothing, he induced Turkey at the moment when she had triumphed over those whom she considered had rebelled and outrageously invaded her territory, to agree to a suspension of hostilities without date, leaving the Powers themselves to fix the terms of peace. He closed by saying the next step for the British government to take is to revert exactly to the position which it occupied before the Servian war begun. To attempt with the concurrence of all the European Powers to [illegible] the relations between the Porte and the Christians on the avowed basis laid down by Lord Derby. I believe all the Great Powers sincerely desire to come to a conclusion.

Character of the Sultan of Turkey.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Thursday, the Standard's dispatch from Constantinople says early changes in the ministry are reported. The Sultan is liberal, intelligent and willing to support any measure for the welfare of his subjects. He desires largely to extend the freedom of the press; is anxious to prevent the purchase of slaves for harems, and wishes to promote the education of Turkish women. He meets with much opposition.

Russian Influence in Servia.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Times' Belgrade special says: Deligrade is becoming more Russian every hour. The neighborhood of Tchernayeff's headquarters swarms with Russian officers. The proclamation of Prince Milan as King is regarded as a purely Russian movement avowedly intended as defiance to Turkey. With the growth of Russian power in camp, antipathy to England is purely manifested. Absurd stories circulated to justify this feeling. It is stated Turkey and England. I was told by a first lieutenant that he had seen Englishmen in English uniforms in the Turkish army. I am positively assailed with charges that England is supplying Turkey with means to carry on the war. It is ungrateful for Servians to talk thus, considering the indignation manifested in England regarding the outrages in Bulgaria and the amount of aid rendered the Servian wounded by Englishmen.

The Philadelphia Times is doing some frank talking with respect to the campaign that the Tilden managers would do well to heed. Of the Vermont election it says: "It is the first public wound that Tildenism has received since the campaign opened. It is not so wide as a barn-door nor so deep as a well, but it is a visible, prostrating wound that will strengthen the Republican tide in Maine, and thus swell the Republican surges from the Pine Tree State upon the October contests in Ohio and Indiana. As the little babbling brooks make up the rivers and the rivers the sea, so do the political tides from even the smallest States mold and make up the judgment of the nation; and if Maine shall follow Vermont the Republicans will have the vantage ground in the Western October States, and if Indiana and Ohio shall both vote Republican four weeks hence, the only question thereafter will be, whether Hayes' majority is to be 300,000 or 500,000."

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

940 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem

2,760 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.
